

Buckle up your best buddy

We spend a lot of time and effort properly buckling up our children and family members when we head out on the road, but what about our other family members – our pets? They deserve to be safe and secure too! And everyone in the vehicle benefits from the reduced distraction that comes when pets are “buckled up” or safe in their crate.

Last summer, AAA spearheaded a survey on safety issues concerning people who drive with pets. Kurgo, the leader in dog travel products, worked together with AAA to supply research that found “1 out of 3 dog owners admitted to being distracted by their dog while driving, and twice as many (2 out of 3) admitted to engaging in distracting activities with their dog while driving.” As the holiday season gears up, many of us will be traveling with our pets, so we would like to offer some simple restraint solutions to help reduce driver distraction.

AAA Merrimack Valley is excited to expand our partnership with Kurgo and offer a wide selection of Kurgo items in all of our Travel Stores. We invite you to visit your nearest AAA Merrimack Valley District Office to explore our new Kurgo pet travel section and to learn more about the travel restraint options available, which also make great holiday gifts. While visiting, register to win a Kurgo “Traveling Dog” gift basket, plus the AAA Pet Book – a value of more than $100. Join us in creating safer roadways for people and pets.
